A message from Hossca

Dear Friends, thank you to the many who attended the last Intensive, "Let the Journey Begin." At the Intensive I was asked, what is it like for me during the Intensive? Jonah has, over the years, continued to adjust my body to allow more of his energy into my physical structure. My conscious mind is not present when Jonah is in my body speaking. But also during the breaks at the Intensive I am not fully there. I can look back on the Intensive weekend and it all seems like a dream. I do fully enjoy seeing many familiar faces and new faces at the Intensive. But I am not fully there to carry on a complete, intelligent conversation. I still feel your love and support and I carry it with me. Please do not take it personally when I am not able to carry on a complete, intelligent conversation or fully recognize your presence. This does not mean I do not enjoy your presence I do, but this time is for Jonah to deliver his message. Just know, I will always carry with me your love and support ...Hossca

Jonah's Newest Messages

MONSTERS

This 70 minute message was edited from Jonah's Intensive, "Let the Journey Begin." This is a powerful message about monsters, real or imagined. What monsters might we have hidden in our mind? Jonah goes into the history on how the elite have and still use monsters to create conformity.

EARTH'S MESSAGE

In this message Jonah speaks as it is. The earth has a message and the message will be delivered. Humans have a choice to listen. What has long been hidden can no longer be hidden. This is a very strong, straight forward message by Jonah. What you have not heard you need to hear. This message involves your life.

Jonah Question and Answer

Jonah, as you said in a previous newsletter, someone is born homosexual. But what about a boy who's been sexually abused by his mother in an early age, and by a young boy later on? Has he really been born as a homosexual or has he been confused about his sexuality because of these experiences he had? And in this case what would be appropriate for a helper to do in order to honor and support this person in finding out his own sexual identity? Sophia Tsoumaki, Athens, Greece

Beloved, indeed a human who is homosexual is born a homosexual. This occurs throughout nature. Do not confuse one who has a homosexual experience as being a homosexual. One can be a heterosexual and have a homosexual experience; this does not make them a homosexual. Just as a homosexual can have a heterosexual experience, this does not make them a heterosexual. One who has been sexually abused by his mother or another can indeed create confusion as to their sexuality. The abuse itself does not make one a homosexual or a heterosexual. Also it is of import to understand; a child can be born a homosexual and have experienced sexual abuse as a child. When the child becomes an adult they live the life of a homosexual. Some may blame the sexual abuse, but it does not change that the child was born a homosexual. When one has confusion as to their true sexual orientation because of sexual abuse, they need first to heal the abuse before there can be clarity in their heart. Forgiveness is the key to healing such abuse. Listen to our messages "The How and Why of Forgiveness" and "Sexuality." There is much sexual confusion in your world. This has much to do with the judgment and guilt of sexuality by religious minded consciousness. When your society chooses to become open and truthful about sexuality, when ones feel free to speak of their sexuality, ye will find sexual abuse greatly decreasing. Because of the fear and condemnation from religious consciousness, sexual confusion and sexual abuse continues to be a plague to humanity...Jonah

What is the difference between reality and dimension? For example, when one is experiencing life from the 4th dimension (or higher), does this one experience an entirely different reality (and different events) than one in the 3rd dimension? Or does the one in the 4th dimension see all that is occurring in the 3rd dimension but is not affected by it? Can one be in the 4th dimension and not consciously know it? Sharon Soldi, Ramona, California

Beloved, one can choose to experience many different realities within the third dimension, just as one can experience many different realities in the fourth dimension. In the third dimension one lives by what they call the laws of the universe, or what would be the 3-5 % of the universe ye call physical. In the fourth dimension one still lives within the laws of the universe, but with a very different set of laws, thereby experiencing a very different life experience. We will be speaking more on this in our message, "In Search of Mysticism." One in the fourth dimension can see and know what is occurring in the third dimension if that is their purpose, and that is the reality they are choosing. Can one be in the fourth dimension and not consciously know it? Well for goodness sakes. For one not to know it they will need to have closed their emotions, great passion, and knowingness. But if that part of them were closed, it would inhibit them from moving into the fourth dimension. Therefore, the answer is no...Jonah

The following 3 questions are on the same subject and were presented to Jonah together. There is a single answer to all three questions.

Jonah, many are celebrating the inauguration of President Obama with a passion and fervor that one might expect a savior to be received. At the same time, weapons stores are selling out of arms and ammunition because of a great fear that he as President, he will revoke the right to bear arms and create a police state. Is this the beginning of a civil war within the United States? And is this polar division among the American people deliberate, designed for some wider, hidden purpose? Thank you! Jackie Lloyd, Ramona, California

Jonah- Many people carry the belief that Obama has come to save the world. Can a mass consciousness made of a collection of primitive beliefs create something that is enlightened? Also he uses the word change quite frequently, but how can anything change if humanity as a whole is resistant to change? Joseph Armeanio, Divide, Colorado

Jonah, in the aftermath of Obama's "anointing", one wonders; when it becomes painfully obvious that this good man is but the sweetened face of the old order, and nothing inherent in this structure can or will withstand the "shattering" influence of the earth's evolving frequencies, because of our own unsustainable imbalances in consciousness and intent, will we begin to see more clearly the manipulation in this Hollywoodized political euphoria? Seems to me that we are being played in preparation for some serious plug pulling with a deluge of despair and fear to follow. Is this just a prep for a move to divide and control? Michael Bohoskey, Woodland Park, Colorado

Well for goodness sakes; has the savior come? Has the earth emitted a golden light because the appointed one has arrived? Are the angels rejoicing? There are many who want to hear the answer is yes, so indeed there will be many giving out this answer. For goodness sakes. It is true many want change, but when it comes to change, the many who want change want the other to change. For true change it must come from within. Can a primitive belief system create something that is enlightened? No, but ones can individually change and move out of the primitive consciousness. Ye will know when one is truly creating change when they choose not to promote the monster in the mind to create conformity. Listen to our message on "Monsters." There are ones of old primitive and paranoid consciousness that do desire to create a civil war. There are ones who want to separate your American country from the rest of the world. Your world consciousness is as an organism moving with a deliberate force. There is not such as happenstance, the organism is well planned. Indeed, beyond the plans of man, the plans of the world organism, cannot withstand the power of the greater organism called earth. Earth is a consciousness, one with compassion, but one that will not be altered by the plans of man. Earth will not enlighten mankind, but through earth's movement mankind will have opportunities to evolve. Your new American leader is one who does desire change, who does desire healing of your nation. The greater majority will fight this one, thus a great battle will ensue. We spoke about this at the Intensive "Let the Journey Begin." As we asked ye who were present, research the history of Europe during your second world war. What led up to the war? Then search the history of the collapse of the Roman Empire and the Persian Empire. Human nature has not changed, but the individual has changed. Meaning more are seeking enlightenment and are willing to see the old primitive and paranoid consciousness for what it is, pain...Jonah

Questions for future Newsletters

Jonah, I understand that the animals feel what is happening in our world and are probably more prepared for it than we are. However, they do depend on us to assist them, what can we do to assist them as we are going through these changes?

We choose to be here on earth at this time and the animals are here with us. Did they choose this to assist us to understand what we have and are creating? And when the shift occurs will some of them stay in the 3rd and some move to the 4th dimension?

I have also noticed that more encounters with non-domesticated animals are occurring and feel this will increase, what can we do to assist both the wild animals and humans to be in balance. We are killing wild animals because they get in our way, like the killing of birds to prevent encounters with airplanes, killing the dolphins and whales as we test in the oceans, all for the sake of "safety". Which is not true. We have forgotten compassion and love with the animals. I know this is not new and has gone on for millenniums, what can I do to bring about awareness and change now? What are the alternatives to keep the animals and humans safe? Thank you all for your love and assistance, Karen Cantrell, Denver Colorado

Jonah, many of us have chosen to change (rebuild) our pattern, moving from tradition and enlightening our lives with choices that are connected with our heard. This emotional passage brought many colors in our lives and happiness. How can we over write difficulties while constructing the new motif so that this journey becomes a playful joy?
Thanks, Katerina Xenofontos, United Kingdom

Jonah I would like to submit the following questions from the Let the Journey Begin intensive:

1. What is the difference or relationship between our core belief and our monsters?
2. After we have completed the meditations 1 through 5 along with their associated questions, and we do the meditations for a second time, will the map of the mind be the same? Will there be more monsters?
3. You recommended we come to know all of the compartments of the conscious mind to assist us in being more aware when something challenging occurs which level of strength we need in order to respond. To do this, do you recommend we do all 5 meditations for each room we identified in our map? Many thanks! With love, Jeannie Smith, Castle Rock, Colorado

Jonah, I have encountered some that are working on the core belief plan that you gave in the Belief Worth Dying For Intensive. Some seem to be using conditioning in working with their core belief instead of discipline. What is the difference between the two, and which should be utilized to create the greatest movement? Joseph Armeanio, Divide, Colorado
